Annual Evaluation of Krishna Kavi - 2011

Teaching – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s teaching was well regarded by students and his SETE scores are about average for our department. Comments made by students are also good. He has been supervising 3 B.S., 9 M.S. and 4 Ph.D. students.

I view Dr. Kavi’s teaching record as very good.

Research – 40%

Dr. Kavi had 3 international conference papers published in 2011 and has 2 journal papers and 1 conference paper accepted for publication with 6 other journal papers under review. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students. He filed 1 patent application in 2011. He received $391,000 is new funding in 2011 as well as $150,000 in industrial gifts. Additionally he submitted two proposals which were not funded. He is still actively expending funds from grants in earlier years.

I view Dr. Kavi’s research record as excellent.

Service – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the University Promotion and Tenure Committee, the department Faculty Recruiting Committee, and as faculty mentor for Dr. Mahadevan Gomathisankaran. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community.

I view Dr. Kavi’s service record as excellent.

Overall

I view Dr. Kavi’s performance in 2011 as excellent.
Annual Evaluation of Krishna Kavi - 2012

Teaching – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s teaching was well regarded by students and his SETE scores are on average near the top of our department. Comments made by students are also good. He has been supervising 6 Ph.D. students, 4 M.S. students, one of whom graduated in 2012, and 6 B. S. students, many as part of an NSF REU.

I view Dr. Kavi’s teaching record as very good.

PAC’s Average Rating: 7.2

Research – 40%

Dr. Kavi had 2 journal papers and 4 international conference papers published in 2012 and has one other journal paper and 1 conference paper accepted for publication with 2 other journal papers under review. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students. He has 1 patent application pending in 2012. From 3 continuing grants and two new grants, he received $402,000 in funding in 2012, including $150,000 in industrial gifts and the MTBC Tech Titans of the Future, University Level Award, for $20,000. Additionally he submitted 3 proposals, two of which are currently pending and one, which was not funded. He is still actively expending funds from grants in earlier years.

I view Dr. Kavi’s research record as excellent.

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.2

Service – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the University Promotion and Tenure Committee, the department Faculty Recruiting Committee, and as faculty mentor for Dr. Mahadevan Gomathisankaran. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community.

I view Dr. Kavi’s service record as excellent.

PAC’s Average Rating: 7.2
Overall

I view Dr. Kavi's performance in 2012 as excellent.

PAC's Overall Rating: 7.6

Faculty Member Notified on ________________  Signed:______________________________
(Date)                                             (Faculty Member)

Signed:___________________________________
(Department Chair)
Annual Evaluation of Krishna Kavi - 2013

Teaching – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s teaching was well regarded by students and his SETE scores are above average for our department. Comments made by students are also good. He has been supervising 1 post-doctoral researcher, 7 Ph.D. students, one of whom graduated in 2013, and 4 M.S. students, one of whom graduated in 2013, and 2 B. S. students as part of an NSF REU. He also worked with 4 visiting students from the University of Pisa, Italy.

I view Dr. Kavi’s teaching record as very good.

PAC’s Average Rating: 7.00

Research – 40%

Dr. Kavi had 2 journal papers and 4 international conference papers published in 2013 and has 2 other conference papers and 2 book chapters accepted for publication. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students. He has 1 patent application pending in 2012. From 3 continuing grants and two new grants, he received over $481,000 in funding in 2013, including $156,000 in industrial gifts. His expenditures of funds from grants are among the highest in the department. Lastly, his work was recognized by being the keynote at the International Conference n Computational and Network Technologies.

I view Dr. Kavi’s research record as excellent.

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.17

Service – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the Graduate Studies Committee, and as faculty mentor for Dr. Mahadevan Gomathisankaran. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community.

I view Dr. Kavi’s service record as excellent.

PAC’s Average Rating: 6.50
Overall

I view Dr. Kavi’s performance in 2013 as excellent.

PAC’s Overall Rating: 7.32

Faculty Member Notified on _______________  Signed:____________________________________
  (Date)  (Faculty Member)

Signed:___________________________________
  (Department Chair)
Annual Evaluation of Krishna Kavi – 2012-2014

Teaching – 27%

Dr. Kavi’s teaching was well regarded by students and his SETE scores are above average for our department. Comments made by students are also good. He has been supervising 1 post-doctoral researcher, 7 Ph.D. students, two of whom graduated in 2012-2014, and 4 M.S. students, one of whom graduated in 2012-2014, 3 B. S. students as part of an NSF REU, and 1 TAMS student. He also worked with 4 visiting students from the University of Pisa, Italy.

I view Dr. Kavi’s teaching record as very good (8).

PAC’s Average Rating: 7.0

Research – 43%

Dr. Kavi had 5 journal papers, 13 conference papers, and 7 workshop papers and book chapters published in 2012-2014 and has 3 other conference papers accepted for publication. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students and post-doc. He received nearly $1.5M in funding from 2012-2014 and his expenditures of funds from grants (over $1.3M in 2012-2014) are the second highest in the department.

I view Dr. Kavi's research record as excellent (10).

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.5

Service – 30%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the Graduate Studies Committee, and as faculty mentor for Dr. Mahadevan Gomathisankaran. He served on the Faculty Search Committee twice during this period, including as chair in 2014. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community.

I view Dr. Kavi’s service record as excellent (9).

PAC's Average Rating: 7.0
Overall

I view Dr. Kavi's performance in 2012-2014 as excellent (9).

PAC's Overall Rating: 7.6

Faculty Member Notified on _______________  Signed:___________________________________
  (Date)  (Faculty Member)

Signed:___________________________________
  (Department Chair)

Teaching – 25%

Dr. Kavi has taught mixed undergraduate/graduate, graduate and advanced graduate courses in his area of specialization. His teaching was well regarded by students and his SETE/SPOT scores are above average for our department. Comments made by students are also good. He has been supervising 1 post-doctoral researcher, 10 Ph.D. students, two of whom graduated in 2013-2015, and 3 M.S. students, one of whom graduated in 2013-2015, 6 B. S. students as part of an NSF REU, and 1 TAMS student. He also worked with 4 visiting students from the University of Pisa, Italy.

I view Dr. Kavi’s teaching record as very good (8).

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.8

Research – 50%

Dr. Kavi had 5 journal papers, 15 conference papers, and 9 workshop papers and book chapters published in 2013-2015 and has a journal paper accepted for publication. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students and post-doc. He received over $1.5M in funding from 2013-2015 and his expenditures of funds from grants (almost $1.5M in 2013-2015) are the second highest in the department.

I view Dr. Kavi’s research record as excellent (10).

PAC’s Average Rating: 9.4

Service – 25%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the Graduate Studies Committee, and as faculty mentor for Dr. Mahadevan Gomathisankaran. He chaired the Faculty Search Committee in 2014. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community, and on NSF panels.

I view Dr. Kavi’s service record as excellent (9).

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.3
Overall

I view Dr. Kavi’s performance in 2013-2015 as excellent (9.3).

PAC’s Overall Rating: 9.0

Faculty Member Notified on ____________  Signed:________________________
(Date) (Faculty Member)

Signed:__________________________
(Department Chair)

Teaching – 22%

Dr. Kavi has taught mixed undergraduate/graduate, graduate and advanced graduate courses in his area of specialization. His teaching was well regarded by students and his SETE/SPOT scores are above average for our department. Comments made by students are also good. He has been supervising 1 post-doctoral researcher, 9 Ph.D. students, one of whom graduated, and 3 M.S. students, 2 of whom graduated, 6 B. S. students as part of an NSF REU, and 1 TAMS student.

I view Dr. Kavi's teaching record as very good (8).

PAC’s Average Rating: 9.0

Research – 56%

Dr. Kavi had 5 journal papers, 14 conference papers, and 8 workshop papers and book chapters published in 2014-2016 and has 2 conference papers accepted for publication. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students and post-doc. He received over $1.5M in funding from 2014-2016 and his expenditures of funds from grants (almost $1.5M in 2014-2016) are the second highest in the department. He has 3 proposals under review. He was awarded a patent in 2016 and filed a patent application in 2016.

I view Dr. Kavi's research record as excellent (10).

PAC’s Average Rating: 9.5

Service – 22%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the Graduate Studies Committee, and as faculty mentor for Dr. Mahadevan Gomathisankaran. He chaired the Faculty Search Committee in 2014. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community, and on NSF panels.

I view Dr. Kavi's service record as excellent (9).

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.5
Overall

I view Dr. Kavi’s performance in 2014-2016 as excellent (9.3).

PAC’s Overall Rating: 9.2

Faculty Member Notified on _____________  Signed:______________________________
(Date) (Faculty Member)

Signed:______________________________
(Department Chair)

Teaching – 22%

Dr. Kavi has taught mixed undergraduate/graduate, graduate, advanced graduate courses in his area of specialization, and CSCE 2610 Computer Organization and Assembly Language Programming, a key required course with very high enrollment. As is the often the case, student reviews of his teaching are much better at the graduate level than at the undergraduate level. He has been supervising 1 post-doctoral researcher, 8 Ph.D. students, and 2 M.S. students, both of whom graduated, and several B. S./TAMS students as part of an NSF REU.

I view Dr. Kavi's teaching record as very good (8).

PAC's Average Rating: 8.0

Research – 56%

Dr. Kavi had 4 journal papers, 13 conference papers, and 2 workshop papers and book chapters published in 2015-2017. It is notable that all of these publications are co-authored with his students and post-doc. He received over $1M in funding from 2015-2017 and his expenditures of funds from grants (almost $1.3M in 2015-2017) are the highest in the department. He has supported an average of 6-8 students every semester. He was awarded a patent in 2016 and filed a patent application in 2016.

I view Dr. Kavi’s research record as excellent (10).

PAC’s Average Rating: 8.8

Service – 22%

Dr. Kavi’s primary service to the department is as Director of the NSF Industry/University Cooperative Research Center for Net-Centric Software and Systems. He also served on the Personnel Affairs and Faculty Search Committees. He has served as editor for 2 journals and on numerous conference organization committees within his research area, showing recognition within his professional community, and on NSF panels.

I view Dr. Kavi’s service record as excellent (9).

PAC’s Average Rating: 7.8
Overall

I view Dr. Kavi’s performance in 2015-2017 as excellent (9.3).

PAC’s Overall Rating: 8.4

Faculty Member Notified on _______________  Signed:________________________
(Date)                     (Faculty Member)

Signed:________________________
(Department Chair)